

SEVEN KILLED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Victims Prominent in Army and Civil Life

Washington—In the worst accident in the history of aviation in the United States seven men, five officers and two prominent civilians, were killed when a big Curtiss Eagle ambulance airplane, caught in a violent electrical storm crashed to earth near Morgantown, Md., forty miles south of Washington. Not a single occupant of the plane survived. Those who lost their lives in the accident were:

Lieutenant-Colonel Archie Miller, air service, general staff college, Washington, D. C., one of the most prominent men in the aviation branch of the army, and who had charge of all the American plans for the handling of the British dirigible R-34 which visited the United States in July, 1919.

Maurice Connolly, formerly a member of Congress from Iowa, who was a Major in the air service during the war, but who at the time of his death was the sales manager of the Curtiss Airplane Company.

A. G. Batchelder, organizer and chairman of the executive board of the American Automobile Association, and who was formerly editor of Motor.

Second Lieutenant Stanley M. Ames of Bolling Field, who was the pilot of the plane.

Second Lieutenant Cleveland W. McDermott of Langley Field, Va.

Second Lieutenant John M. Pennewell of Langley Field, Va.

Sergeant Richard Blumenkranz, a mechanic in the Army Air Service of Bolling Field.

BIG PACKING PLANT CHANGE

$1,000,000 Deal Marks Sale of Packing Plant

Oakland—In a deal involving $1,000,000 and which was closed this week the Virden Packing Company has acquired the Western Canning Company of Emeryville, one of the largest fruit concerns in the State.

Immediate possession was taken, and it was announced by the Virden interests that the Emeryville plant will henceforth be operated during twelve months in the year, instead of during the fruit packing season only. The plant has a capacity of 600,000 cases per season and employs a maximum of 1,500 men and women.

It is the plan of the new owners to run the plant at full capacity during the coming fruit season, which will open in two weeks, and after the pack is completed, to engage in meat canning.

Eighteen months ago the Virden Packing Company took over the Moran Packing Company in South San Francisco and in its latest expansion it will operate the two packing concerns together. Meats will be shipped from South San Francisco to Emeryville. With large cold storage facilities, the Western Canning Company can easily be utilized in that industry.

MURDERER SHOT IN FLIGHT

Posse Kills Man Who Shot Woman On Her Doorstep

Santa Barbara—Fred Bertoni, 32, a native of Porto Rico, was shot and killed at Los Alamos, forty-five miles north of here, by a member of a posse which was searching for him after he was alleged to have shot and seriously injured Mrs. James Easter of Los Alamos last night.

Shortly before he was surrounded and had refused to surrender. Bertoni shot Nicholas Ralph, member of the posse, in the shoulder. Ralph is expected to recover, but Mrs. Easter's wound may prove fatal, according to physicians.

ROAD CONTRACTS AWARDED

North Counties Awards Amount to $492,208.50

Sacramento—Contracts, amounting to $492,208.50 for the construction of highways in Northern California counties, have been awarded by the State Highway Commission. The awards were as follows:

Mono county—Highway from Tioga pass to Virginia City, 13.4 miles.

Mariposa county—Highway from Mariposa to Sierra National Forest, 7.8 miles.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILLS FOR VETERANS

Measures Assure Rehabilitation to Ex-Service Men

Sacramento—Five major measures for California's veterans passed by the State Legislature were signed by Governor William D. Stephens on Memorial Day.

The five measures are:

The Arbutuck bill, creating the Veterans' Welfare Board and appropriating $1,000,000 for operating.

The W. O. Hart bill, creating farm and home aid for veterans and appropriating $2,000,000 for operating.

The Inman bill, putting a $10,000,000 bond issue up to the vote of the people at the next general election. This amount will be used as a revolving fund by the Veterans' Welfare Board to carry on its programme for farm and home aid for ex-service men.

Vocational educational bill, appropriating $500,000.

The bill permitting counties to construct meeting places for veteran organizations.

The Veterans' Welfare Board will operate in the same manner as the State land settlement colony at Durham. It provides farm allotments not to exceed:

$15,000 for unimproved land.

$5,000 for unimproved land.

$5,000 for dwellings and outbuildings.

$3,000 for farm implements.

The $15,000 loan is payable in forty years; the $5,000 in twenty years and the $3,000 in five years. The money is loaned at 5 per cent interest.

The Veterans' Welfare Board has the power to waive payments. Special preference will be given to disabled ex-service men. The veteran does not need money for the initial payment under the Inman bill, according to American Legion men.

A "veteran" as defined under the act is a soldier, sailor or marine who enlisted from California, and who was a bona fide citizen of this State previous to his enlistment.

Under the Hart bill a veteran may borrow $7500 for the purchase of a farm; $5000 for a home or home site. Under this act the veteran must make an initial payment of 10 per cent on the purchase price of a farm and 5 per cent on the purchase price of a home or home site. He may select any property anywhere in the State.

The Arbutuck vocational education bill gives a veteran two years' education in any school in the State, the total amount for each man not to exceed $1000 for the two years.

MILTON WINS RACE

Indianapolis (Ind.)—Tommy Milton, speed titleholder of the world, fanned his terrific little Frontenac car across the finish line at an average speed of 89.62 miles an hour during the 500 mile auto race ahead of the most brilliant field of race drivers ever collected. He thereby annexed the 1921 International motor classic with its entire purse of $20,000, the season's championship and the adoration of some 135,000 perspiring race fans who recognized him with regal honors.

FORTUNE IN ORE DUMP

Barstow—An old dump and loose ore about the abandoned Bagdad Chase Mill a mile south of Barstow, for years thought to be valueless, is said to be producing a fortune.

In one day the little plant that has been erected at the dump produced $750 in gold. It is declared, and is reclaiming hundreds of dollars from the refuse that has laid on the ground for many years.

VETERANS INCORPORATE

Sacramento—Articles of incorporation of the 91st Division, a veteran's organization, known as the Wild West Division, have been filed with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. The purpose of the organization is to perpetuate the memories of the war and associations of the division, whose members saw service on the front line.

CONGRESSMAN FREE URGES MORE JUICE

California and the West should wake up to the necessity of increasing its hydro-electric power development, in the opinion of Congressman Albert Arthur M. Free of San Jose. Congressman Free said:—"If the power problem of the west is to be solved successfully for the years to come the public at large must realize the necessity of meeting the situation. The problem of obtaining power and of having it in the future is one that vitally interests the agricultural interests, especially the irrigators who must have cheap power that their expense of operation can be kept down. But the problem is so great that no one class should attempt to handle the problem alone. It is one for all in which the public itself must become interested."

"Electricity is the coming propulsive medium in the West. Our oil supply is dwindling and railroads can't afford to haul coal clear across the continent, so that electrification of Western lines is coming sooner than most of us realize."

"Arrangements must be made whereby all Western States can be supplied with electrical energy at fair and equal terms. Electric power must not be controlled by any one State or municipality for California cannot benefit through reduced freight rates unless the operating cost through Arizona, Nevada, Utah and other States is reduced likewise. Therefore it would be unfair to California to insist that all power developed in the State be kept there. Our power resources are too great for any such restriction. We would be the losers instead of the beneficiaries through any policy of restriction."

"The California Railroad Commission assures, through the public regulations of rates and services of power utilities, fair play for producer and consumer alike. The railroad commission needs the cooperation of the public as well as of the power companies."

MRS. BUFFINGTON AT REST

Mrs. Emma L. Buffington passed away Saturday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. I. N. Castle in San Jose.

Mrs. Buffington was one of the highly respected early settlers of Campbell having come to live on the family ranch here 28 years ago. In recent years she has been living in San Jose where her sons, Lloyd, a patrolman, and Howard, former deputy sheriff, could be near her.

Many of her active years were spent in church work, she being a devoted member of the Christian church.

The funeral was held Tuesday interment being at the Oak Hill cemetery.

The bereaved family has a number of old time friends in this community who extend to them their sincere sympathy.

FINED FOR THE FLOGGING OF EDITOR

Editor Arthur M. Clark of the Carpenteria Herald, Santa Barbara County, was recently taken from his office by five members of the American Legion of that town carried to their hall and given a flogging with a rawhide quirt because he refused to retract an editorial utterance that was displeasing to these five members. The floggers were arrested and fined $100 each. Commander Fitts of the American Legion, after a thorough investigation, revoked the charter of the offending post and announced that the men involved would never be admitted to membership in the Legion again.

SEVENTH GRADE RECEPTION IS A GREAT SUCCESS

The reception given by the Seventh Grade to the Eighth Grade was enjoyed last Friday, May 27, in the corridor and Assembly Hall of the Campbell Union Grammar School by the parents, teachers and students. The corridors were decorated with crepe paper streamers, the colors being pink and green as these are class colors of the present Eighth Grade. Games were played in the Assembly Hall and much laughter issued from there. After the games, the merry throng trooped out to the south west corner of the corridor where cake, sandwiches and punch were served in great quantities to young and old. After some lingering the party broke up with their minds and stomachs full of sweet remembrances.

Harold Cramer—

PUNDITA ENTERTAINED FAMILIES ROYALLY

Pundita Circle entertained about a hundred relatives and friends at the annual evening party held this year in the "We and Our Neighbors" club house. A very clever adaptation of Mother Goose songs and rhymes had been arranged by Mrs. W. H. Stray. Those taking part designed their own costumes and interpreted their own roles, the result being an hour of rollicking fun, wit, and good humor on the stage and off.

Simple Simon, Tommy Tucker and Jack Horner kept the audience in an uproar through out the whole performance, stopping only long enough to allow "Old King Cole" to sing several solos in his own good voice.

In the first act Mrs. M. E. Purmort as Mother Goose introduced the characters, and then the students began to amuse everyone. Those taking part were: Little Bo Peep, Mrs. L. J. Carboni, Tommy Tucker, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Jack Horner, Mr. Ralston Alison, Miss Muffet, Mrs. C. E. Day, Boy Blue, Mr. C. E. Day, Girl with Curl, Mrs. W. H. Stray, Simple Simon, Mr. M. E. Purmort, Plow Boy, Mr. H. A. Watrous, Jack and Jill, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

The second act was "Old King Cole's Party" with Mr. L. J. Carboni in the title role. His court was visited by Mother Goose with all the characters from the first act, and several new ones. Curly Locks, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mistress Mary, Mrs. Ralston Alison, The Jolly Miller, Mr. W. H. Stray, Old Mother Hubbard and dog, Mrs. Watrous and "Leo" Mr. and Mrs. Pardee surprised and delighted everyone with their unusual interpretation of "Where are You Going My Pretty Maid?" Between the acts, several up-to-date parodies, songs and a reading "The Lad from Largymore" were rendered by Mrs. H. A. Watrous.

Mrs. D. H. Cramer accompanied on the piano for the first act and Mrs. L. J. Carboni for the second.

As members and guests had been requested to appear in Mother Goose costumes, the assembly was very picturesque. Dancing and delicious refreshments completed a most enjoyable evening.

HIGHWAY OPEN JUNE 15

Highway Engineer E. Blockley informed the Mail-News yesterday that highway from Los Gatos to Alma would not be open for general travel until about July 15.

The highway was opened today for local travel as far as the road leading to Oaks Sanitarium. From that point there is a detour to reach Alma.

While all the road concrete work has been completed as far as the Bear Creek road, Engineer Blockley will not permit general travel over the road until certain curbs, end walls and culverts have been put in, and also the work of laying water pipes has been completed.

Mr. Blockley states that he can give no date for the completion of the entire highway from Alma to the Summit, but says that the work will be rushed from now on, as it looks as if the season of settled weather conditions has arrived.

When the highway has been opened as far as Alma, the Bear Creek road can be used to reach Santa Cruz.

THRIFT WILL RE-ESTABLISH U.S.

WE ARE ADVISED DAILY by the economists that by thrift we must restore the capital destroyed by the war.

If thrifty, we are assured we can make good, in twelve years, the total destruction of the great European conflict.

Only by thrift, we are warned, can we get the abundant capital which means permanently easy money and credit; permanently prosperous business and national welfare.

The opportunity for thrift is here. The cost of living has gone down 30 to 40 per cent—certainly one-third—in the last year.

The man who lived through war times, and still is in business, may now save a part of his income, if he wishes.

He may buy the same things he bought a year ago, and at the end of the month have a surplus to put in the bank. Or, he may buy more things than he bought a year ago, and at the end of the month have nothing but receipted bills. It is his choice.

How is he choosing? Often sensibly; that is one reason why there are some signs of business improvement; sometimes foolishly; that is one reason why the improvement is not more general.

The lesson of thrift is still to be learned in many cases.

For example: Tabulations of household budgets, family expenditures, come to hand every week. From reading them, one often gets the impression that such things as pot-roast, leg of mutton, side meat, spare-ribs and hens are as much out of style as cabbages and kings, and that only sliced ham at 50 cents a pound, porterhouse steak, rib chops, rib roasts and broilers are fit food for any American family.

Even government statisticians seem to hold this point of view. They still figure out health and decency "standards," which one must spend $2,600 or $3,000 a year to live up to, and which would condemn four-fifths of the head and hand workers in the United States—ministers, doctors and teachers, among others—to an indecent life, and not distant death.

But there are plenty of signs in daily life to the same effect. One does not have to read books, or circulars, to find them.

A young woman earning $25 a week pays $18 for a pair of suede shoes. There are thousands like her, and so such shoes still stand at $18 in the shops. A man pays $16 for a pair of shoes, although by walking a few blocks he can get equally good ones for $9. And so, with the raw materials for shoes costing less than ten years ago, the $16 shoe is still priced, and sold as readily to some men, as in 1918.

Unique Grand Army Souvenir

Three sons of a Civil War veteran manifested their pride in their father's record by presenting him and his regiment, at its reunion in Madison, Wis., with a handsome enlarged copy of the Grand Army badge worn by these old volunteers. Except for the flag, which is silk, the badge is made entirely of heavy sheet metal, gilded and enameled in suitable colors. The embossing was done by beating and hammering with tools of various shapes.

June, a Time for Reflection

June is the sixth month, the half-way station of the year. If the first of the year was the proper occasion for good resolutions, the present is a capital time to compare notes with our secret selves and see how those resolutions are getting along.

There was that resolution to keep the personal and family expenses within a specified amount. What success? And that savings account, especially. How has it prospered? We ask because we are genuinely interested, because your success gratifies us as well as you. Probably you do not realize how stimulating and inspiring so simple a thing as a savings account, regularly added to, can be to those who keep the records and see the results.

Indeed you can never prosper wholesomely without also being a benefit to other people. Just now your savings are working in a co-operative way that you may not fully appreciate. Many farmers are borrowing funds with which to finance the coming harvest season. Every one who has built a reserve for himself has by so much increased the loaning power of the banks, has helped the coming harvest in a way that will be for the good of us all.

Incidentally, we have a new and particularly interesting Savings Plan to tell you about. Watch for the announcement of it next week.

Armistice Day, 1865 and 1918

Grandfathers, fathers, uncles and great uncles of the A. E. F. remind those youngsters that there is another date beside November 11 that is bright on the calendars of war. It's Sunday, April 9, 1865, the anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee, commander of the Confederate Armies.

What was that "armistice day," or rather that unconditional surrender day, fifty-six years ago like? What happened there at Appomattox Court House, Va., when the Gray gave in to the Blue? The khaki would like to know. Let John M. Surface, one time eighteen-year-old private in the Seventh Indiana volunteer infantry, and entitled to a wound chevron for a bullet hole through the right shoulder, received in the Battle of the Wilderness, tell about it.

"It was Sunday, April 9, 1865, and a fine day," Mr. Surface said. "Just one week before we'd captured Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy. From there, we'd fought a rearguard action with the retreating Confederates 70 miles west to Appomattox Court House. We were in a sparsely settled, rolling country, tobacco plant and not much else, sprouting in its red-black soil. We camped near the little town and stacked arms. It was an out-of-the-way place, but great things happen at little places."

"Sure, Senlis was that kind of a joint," agreed the youngster from the A. E. F.

"We were encamped along an old washed out road, all of the regiment that hadn't been left at the Wilderness and other places," the older veteran continued. "Across a ravine through the timber, we could see the old McLean house. We had seen generals and their staffs entering it and coming out all day and we believed we'd seen flags of truce."

"Bet the camp was chock full of rumors," the A. E. F. ventured. "It was," admitted the former private of the Seventh Indiana. "But finally we saw a group of horsemen trotting up. I recognized the old forage cap and the hook nose of Gen. George Meade, commander of the Army of the Potomac. We hollered 'Hey, general, have they surrendered?'"

"What! All you buck privates hollered, 'Hey, general?'"

"Certainly, we were old campaigners together," replied the old-time

The McLean House, Where the Surrender of General Lee Took Place.

Yank. "The general hollered back, 'The whole army of Northern Virginia has surrendered. You get to go home, boys!'"

"Then we started to celebrate. There were from sixty thousand to one hundred thousand Union soldiers around about. Every flag in the army was unshathed. We wrapped our officers in the colors, put them on stumps and made them make speeches. All the din and noise was terrific."

"We were quiet after 11 o'clock," offered the A. E. F., "but some of us got into Paris later."

"But most all were wild to go home," the old Yank said, while the young one nodded vigorously and sympathetically. "That was April. After the grand review in Washington I was discharged in July."

"Some speed," commented the A. E. F., enviously. "Say, that's the way to end a war."—Kansas City Star.

The Last Salute.

We pass and leave you lying. No need for rhetoric, for funeral music, for melancholy bugle calls. No need for tears now, no need for regret.

We took our risk with you; you died and we live. We take your noble gift, salute for the last time those lines of pitiable crosses, those solitary mounds, those unknown graves, and turn to live our lives out as we may.

Which of us were the fortunate—who can tell? For you there is silence and the cold twilight drooping in awful desolation over those motionless lands. For us sunlight and the sound of women's voices, song and hope and laughter, despair, gaiety, love—life.

Lost, silent terrible comrades, we, who might have died, salute you.—From the Anglo-French Review.

LEGION MEN HIT BY RULING

National Judge Advocate Decides Organization Officer Ineligible if Holding Public Office.

A decision of far-reaching importance as affecting the participation in politics of men holding office in the American Legion has just been handed down by Robert A. Adams, national judge advocate of the Legion, in response to an inquiry from the Inter-Post Council of Los Angeles, Cal.

At its annual election held in December a Los Angeles post elected Channing Follette as commander for 1921. A short time afterwards Follette was appointed justice of the peace by the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county.

The question arose whether, in view of the fact that Follette had been appointed to an office which, in its nature, except in the matter of filling vacancies, is an elective, salaried public office, he was eligible to serve as an officer of the Legion.

In his official ruling, the national judge advocate says:

"This being a salaried, elective public office, it is my opinion that the method of filling a vacancy is not essential in determining the eligibility of a Legionaire holding such office. The office is elective, although the case with which we deal is that of an appointment."

"The purpose of the constitutional provision is, of course, to prevent, so far as possible, the use by a member of the Legion of his Legion membership in furthering a political career. Consequently, the effect of an appointment is in no wise dissimilar from an election, and it is my opinion that the incumbent is, by the acceptance of his office, rendered ineligible for the office of the American Legion."

It is believed that many Legion members, appointed to political offices will be affected by this ruling.

FANTASTIC ACCIDENT TO TRAIN

New York—A derailed Third avenue elevated train turned into a battering ram on its lofty structure over the hub of the Bronx last night, toyed with the lives of 500 passengers, while it ripped out a big wooden signal tower and enacted many other queer freaks for a watching crowd of 10,000 persons. Six persons were seriously injured.

HAVE YOU EVER BOUGHT ANY STOCK?

If you have, then you will be more than interested in our offer. We have the most complete Information Bureau in the country on unlisted stocks and bonds.

We are offering, for two weeks only, a complete book covering all points connected with the purchase of stocks or bonds written by men who have had many years' experience in the securities business.

We also include in this offer a market report on all unlisted stocks and bonds, and allow two reports on this contract.

The above mentioned book may save you many times its cost for the following reasons:

- 1st. It explains promotions in plain English so that any man, woman or child can understand thoroughly the operations of the Twentieth Century promoter.
- 2nd. It explains how to detect frauds in stocks and thereby protect your savings.
- 3rd. It will enable you to talk intelligently to any one offering you an investment which may be a good one.

Our book is not offered to the public with the idea of hampering any legitimate enterprise, but simply to aid the general public in determining what to do in the event of their being offered stock, or if they have already purchased some, How and Where to Sell.

We are not connected with any brokerage houses, and when offering a market report, list all brokers making a bid on the specified stock, with their relative offers.

The above book and report service sells for $1.00, and we do not hesitate in saying that you will find both to be worth many times the price asked.
